About Anthony

For over 23 years, Anthony P. Hart has pursued a singular mission: to develop retirement income plans to help clients ensure their "golden years" are just that, brilliant, and in the process, create an income stream for life. Anthony attended the University of Pittsburgh, and shortly after graduation he worked for Hibernia Bank and became a professional in the financial services industry.

In 1993 he founded his own retirement consulting firm that has grown to become today's Hart Investment Center. Rather than utilize the "one size fits all" approach that is so common in today's retirement planning, The Hart Investment Center starts with a clear goal to design a custom retirement income plan for each client. At The Hart Investment Center, the firm works exclusively for clients and not for financial companies or brokers.

Anthony works with his wife Sharon. Together they have three sons, Mark (17), Trevor (12) and Kevin (9). They reside in Pittsburgh, and have offices in both Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

As a business owner, the overall goal is to ensure most address in this, "will you outline your money or will your money outline you?" This is the way we make you go this presentation together. We hope you enjoy watching.

About Marks Financial, LLC

For over 25 years, Marks Financial has pursued a singular mission - to develop retirement income plans to help clients secure their "golden years" and enjoy the truly golden, and in the process, create an income stream for life.

Marks Financial founder Ken Marks attended the University of Pittsburgh, and shortly after graduation he realized the following three and became a professional in the financial services industry. He was joined by wife, Jan Marks, a financial advisor and John Jamison, a CPA, in 1987.

Rather than utilize the "one size fits all" approach that is so common in today's retirement planning, Marks Financial starts with a clear date to design a custom fit retirement income plan for each client. As the firm works exclusively for clients, and not for financial companies or brokerage.

Marks Financial has offices in both Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

As Ken Marks says, "The central question retires must address is this, 'will you outlive your money or will your money outlive you?' This is the very reason we put this presentation together. We hope you enjoy watching."
